

4 key metrics to measure space utilisation

1

Measure departmental utilisation

To forecast growth impact

Compare usage behaviour to understand what types of space each team requires, allowing you to forecast space needs as you grow.

Measure assets & space utilisation

To re-evaluate workplace strategy

Understand how employees interact with the office and different assets in order to optimise utilisation levels and repurpose underutilised areas.

Measure mobility profiles

To support new workstyles

Identify opportunities to expand or consolidate space by creating role based profiles which can be used when planning space allocation and developing workplace policies.

Measure high and low peak utilisation

To optimise utilisation levels

Identify when offices are at their busiest and most empty. Leverage this information to redistribute occupancy throughout the week and avoid costly lease investments.
