

Desk and room management solution

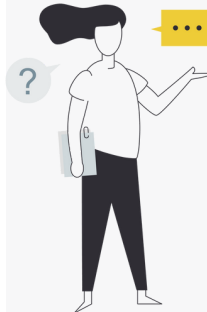

How OpenSensors booking tool enables flexibility in the workplace

Accurate and reliable data gathering

Our booking data enables teams to enhance their understanding of workplace occupancy and employee

Employee Health & safety as priority #1

Our booking tool let's you safeguard employee's wellbeing as office occupancy levels rises

Automate tedious administrative tasks

Avoid manually assigning spaces and arduous tasks as occupancy levels rise. Our booking tool makes it easy for you to manage space requirements quickly

1 Comparing booking against actual utilisation data to understand the impact of no shows on space requirements.

2 Identifying trends in employee behaviour throughout the week.

3 Pinpoint which spaces and assets throughout the office are most popular, and which can be replaced.

1 Easily comply to changes in capacity limitations by adding and removing spaces or assets to the centralised booking system.

2 Quickly gather accurate track and trace information in the case of an emergency to ensure that those who need to isolate can do so.

3 Give employees the ability to decide for themselves the level of exposure they are comfortable with.

1 Providing a quick, easy and centralised point of access to the workplace for all employees.

2 Removing the need for time consuming and repetitive managerial approvals by using predetermined user settings and preferences .

3 Using integrated occupancy sensors to identify no shows and release spaces back into the system.